The Indian Ocean and Southeast Asia Regional Meeting will be held on 19th April 2015 8.30am-11.30 am, prior to the International Sea Turtle Symposium presentations commencing on the 20th April. This informal regional meeting provides an opportunity for people from each major stakeholder group to meet and discuss important issues such as nesting beach management, by-catch, migration, and social, economic and cultural aspects of marine turtle management and conservation that is specific to the Indian Ocean and Southeast Asian region.

You are invited to attend and share your ideas and stories with other participants so as to make this meeting a useful and informative event. Please email Lalith Ekanayake (lalitheml@yahoo.com; Subject: Indian Ocean and Southeast Asia Regional Meeting -2015) by 5th April, 2015 if you are planning to attend this meeting, and if you would like to deliver a 3-5 minute presentation of what is happening or of interest in your region.
